Choosing a perfect tree this Christmas

By T. H. TOUPS
It's that time of the year again; grab the kids, load everybody in the car... and let's go Christmas tree shopping!

Remember that buying a Christmas tree that your family will be happy with through the holiday season involves more science than art. Be patient, shop shrewdly and be prepared for a little sticker shock when you check the prices of some of the larger and prettier trees. With custom flocking, some can approach the $200 mark!

Approximately 50 different species of conifers are sold as "Christmas trees" in America.

According to Evergreen Florist and Garden Center owner Barbara Scalfi, only six are commonly sold in our area. These are the Blue Spruce, Noble Fir, Frazier Fir, Scotch Pine, Douglas Fir and the Virginia Spruce-Pine.

What kind should you buy? That depends upon several factors, including the number of ornaments you wish to use and your tolerance for cleaning up Christmas tree needles.

In general, the spruce's branches are strong and will support virtually any number of Christmas tree safety suggestions offered

Every year, people die needlessly in fires started by decorative Christmas tree lighting. Chief David Garcia of the Waveland Fire Department has provided a list of potentially lifesaving safety tips, which will help ensure that your holidays are safe and happy.

—Check all lights for proper function and inspect them for damage, frayed spots or bare wires.
—Keep your tree watered.

County eyes gaming $

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Board of Supervisors president Mike Ladner announced Monday the state will refund $41,353 to Hancock County, its portion of taxes collected from Casino Magic for the month of October. Ladner added, "We collected about $700 for September, bringing the total so far to around $42,000."

PAY RAISES

The board approved a 25¢ per hour pay increase for all county employees, excluding the sheriff's, road and bridge, and janitorial departments.

The raises will take effect beginning the next pay period in December.

EMERGENCY WORK

A motion to pay ConTech Power Systems $27,000 for work completed at the Port Bienville Industrial Park last month was rescinded by the board until emergency status is verified.

Port and Harbor director Harold "Buz" Olsen explained the work was performed in order to expedite the return of power to park tenants following destruction of the power building by a fire on the Ryan Marine site.

Board attorney Gerald Gex recommended approval of payment, contingent upon determination of the cause of the fire. Should responsibility lie elsewhere, he said, the county should be reimbursed.

Olsen said the commission held no insurance on the building.

SAND BEACH PROJECT

The board approved an expenditure up to $5,000 for contract of boring samples to be taken along Bayou Caddy in search of sand for refurbishing the beach in front of Buccaneer State Park.

District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson stated his belief that quality sand could be found southeast along the marshes in a large sand bar. From here, Peterson contended, sand may be

Stalemate forbids new Christian club at HHS

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock County School Board members remained at odds over whether to allow a non-curriculum related Christian club authority to assemble at Hancock High School during lunch time.

Board members Cheryl Bennett, District 2, and Carol Bustetter, District 3, voted in opposition, while Kay Sones, District 4, and Lennette Necaise, District 5, voted in approval.

Board president Frank Miller was absent.

Bennett and Bustetter stated they would prefer to wait until board attorney Joseph Gex determines the legality of the group meeting during school time.

Sones and Necaise supported the group's request, saying lunch period is free time for the students.

Principal David Kopf said he is against the group's formation as it duplicated the purpose of the HHS Fellowship for Christian Athletes (FCA) club, which meets before school.

A student reported he/she felt unwanted by members of FCA because he/she did not participate in school sports.

Sones read from a Christian Athlete's publication, describing a "huddle" activity which specifically stated one must be a member of an organized athletic group to participate.

Lawmen tackle cause for Hancock children

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

For nearly three months, law enforcement personnel of Hancock County have been huffing and puffing twice a week in preparation for Saturday's post-parade, Doll and Toy Fund football game.

Last year, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department team ran away with a 44-14 victory; but this year, the Bay St. Louis Police Department team intends to reverse that precedent and carry home the gold cup.

Which ever team wins, both sides agree, the real winners will be the children of Hancock County; for it is the intent of every individual participating that no child in the county go without a Christmas toy.

In order to assure a grand turnout, law enforcement personnel have pitted themselves department investigator Matt "the Cat" Karl retaliated. "Besides, we have perfected our falling-on-the-ground skills."

Osco stated BSL coaches Police Chief Frank McNeil and health club owner J.E. Loiacano have really cracked down this year, incorporating plays with running and passing of the ball.

Karl, not to be topped by the BSL spokesman, interjected, sheriff's department coaches, Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, and

'Festival of Lights'

Waveland celebrates holiday season Sunday

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The City of Waveland will welcome residents and visitors to the 'Festival of Lights' celebration of the holiday season Sunday, December 6.

Mayor Stella Frilot said several lighted ornaments and decorations have been added for the occasion, and hinted a special surprise is in store.

Some 4,000 attended last year's event, according to Frilot.

The lighting of the Christmas lights along Coleman Avenue and the arrival of Santa Claus at Waveland City Hall will begin the festivities. A blazing Christmas bonfire will culminate the night.

St. Rose de Lima Choir will headline entertainment at City Hall. Also performing will be the Joy Fellowship Choir, The Bay Four and After barbershop quartet, and the St. Clare Adult Choir.

Strolling Christmas carolers along Coleman Avenue will include members of the Krewe of Nereids and Bay-Waveland

Registers ring with sales

BY TRACI BONNEY

The weekend after Thanksgiving is traditionally considered the biggest shopping weekend of the year. Most local retailers would agree with that assessment, judging from an informal survey taken Tuesday and Wednesday.

While Rochelle Buchanan of the Sea Chest said she had a normal weekend, other merchants' comments ranged from "good" to "excellent."

CLOTHING

Virginia Ladner of Ms. Vi's in Waveland said she did well, especially in selling sweaters, winter clothing and party dresses.

Yellow Bird's Audrey Comeaux said she did all right; however, as she looked around her store, she noticed that she had sold all her stock in several items.

"We sold out of silk blouses and a number of sweaters. We sold a zillion red blazers; we're down to two," she said.

Gail Farrell of Just Looking, the consignment store in Waveland, commented, "It was busy Friday; Saturday was a little slower, but it's picked up since then."

Clothes and jewelry were her biggest sellers, she added.

Jane Ann Fahey at the Princess Shop said, "We had a real good weekend. Everyone seemed to be thinking of Christmas and they were in a buying mood. They were buying both for gifts and to fill their own holiday needs."

J. W. Puckett & Co. construction employees work on the 30-man addition to the Hancock County Justice Facility. Work began in August and is expected to be completed by mid-January. The ground floor area was formerly used for storage. Wall construction varies from the traditional pattern of overlapping bricks, as cinder blocks are stacked one on top of another, inserted with iron rods and filled with concrete for greater strength and security. FoodSHARE signup set Signup for this month's FoodSHARE distribution is through December 7. Food delivery date is December 19.

The Rev. Charles E. Clark, visitation pastor of Faith Assembly of God in Kiln, is coordinator of the program in Hancock County. Churches now participating include Maranatha Church in Picayune, Faith Assembly of God in Kiln, First Assembly of God and Joy Fellowship in Waveland, Power House of Deliverance in Bay St. Louis and Shiloh Baptist Church in Kiln.

The Senior Citizen centers in Pass Christian and Hancock County also are participating, Clark said.

People who sign up for the program pay $14 for each grocery packet they want and volunteer two hours of community service per packet. One dollar of the amount goes for transportation costs.

The $14 can be paid by cash, money order or food stamps; the community service must be completed prior to delivery day.

A packet consists of frozen meats, fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables and bonus items such as pinto beans, rice and seasonings.

To sign up, contact Clark at 255-3066.

According to Karen Williams, CYO parish youth director, today the group will meet in the parish hall at 7 p.m. to finalize special Christmas activities.

This Friday, Dec. 4, first Friday of the month, there will be eucharistic adoration immediately following St. Ann's 8:30 a.m. Holy Mass until noon. The special devotions will conclude with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

There will be anointing of the sick during all masses Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 5 and 6 at both St. Ann and St. John churches.

A Day of Recollection is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 16 at St. Ann Church, Lower Bay Road, Clermont Harbor from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Everyone is invited.

The last pre-baptism class for the year will be Thursday, Dec. 10 at St. Ann. Please call the rectory if you plan to attend.

During the Advent season we will have an 'Angel Tree' in each church with the names of needy children, and we encourage families who can pick a name and purchase a Christmas gift for a needy child.

On Sunday, Dec. 13 there will be a Christmas party after the 10:30 a.m. Mass in St. Ann Hall. All parishioners are invited.

Shoreline Baptist sets Dec. revival

Shoreline Park Baptist Church will hold revival services Sunday, Dec. 6 through Wednesday, Dec. 9.

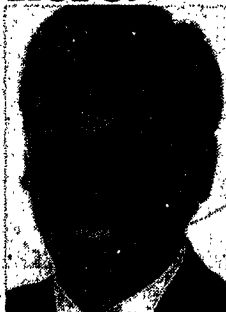

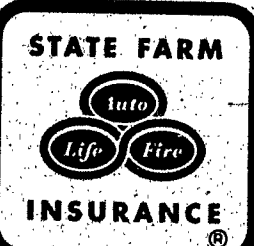

Featured minister for the revival will be Dr. Luther Max Dorr, professor at New Orleans Baptist Seminary. Dr. Dorr is widely known for his knowledge of the Bible and ability to preach.

Sunday morning service will begin at 11 a.m. and evening services will begin at 7 p.m. The public is invited to come early and join in the singing.

With HandyLine

HandyLine is the easiest way to write yourself a loan! *It's your personal line of credit and you only have to apply once, then it's yours to use from then on - for any good reason.

Simply write a check for the amount of your purchase using your personal check. Your HandyLine will automatically cover the amount above your checking account balance, in $100 increments, to the full amount of your available credit limit.

Repaying the loan is based on 5% of your unpaid balance, or a minimum of $25.00 whichever is greater. As you repay the money you borrowed, your credit limit will renew itself and you can use it again.

One of the biggest advantages of a HandyLine is that it is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week through more than 50 HandyBanks throughout south Mississippi.

ornaments or heavy decorations. Spruces do tend to drop their needles rather quickly. The Frazier Fir holds its needles well, as to the pine varieties.

When shopping for your tree, remember that this is a totally seasonal business. Tree sellers are stuck with any trees not sold before Christmas. As the Christmas date draws nearer, the buyers' bargaining position grows stronger.

Don't overlook less-than-perfect trees. Unless you plan to place the tree in the middle of a room, many imperfections can be hidden against a wall or in a corner.

Tree sellers report that the less attractive trees are frequently the last to be sold and some sellers are willing to negotiate prices readily.

Other than price, a main concern should be the freshness of the tree. Fresh trees, irrespective of species, hold their needles longer and represent less of a fire hazard (see accompanying story for fire safety tips).

Grab a branch and pull it, letting the needles slide through your fingers. They shouldn't come out in great bunches. Pick the tree up slightly and slam it down hard on a firm surface. Again, many needles shouldn't fall off.

After selecting your tree, there is still some preventative maintenance to be done. All cut trees form a solidified sap barrier at their base. A new cut, roughly one inch above the old one should be made before placing the tree in its water-filled base.

Forget wives' tales about sugar water or other mysterious ingredients. Just use plain clean water. Scaifi recommends that the first water be piping hot, to help open the pores in the wood.

If the tree is not to be erected immediately after purchase, keep it in a cool, shaded location until ready for use. A fine water misting over the branches once a day during this period will help keep it fresh.

When your tree is finally set up, remember to keep it away from heat and ignition sources. Don't place it near heater vents, hot appliances or candles. Any heat source will tend to dry the tree and make it more flammable. Christmas tree lights generate their own heat and should not be kept on longer than necessary.

Prospective tree buyers shouldn't overlook the "cut your own" lots available in some areas. Savings can be realized by the do-it-yourselfer, and the selection and cutting can be a real family project.

Finally, consider the purchase of a live tree. This option has gained considerable popularity in recent years. Though the root system and soil require a bigger base, the tree will stay fresh throughout the holidays and can be planted in your yard later.

It's a nice thing to do for the ecology—and a nice way to keep a little Christmas spirit around the house all year 'round!

—Don't hang ornaments on the light's wires—keep them on the tree.

—Don't exceed manufacturer's specifications for extension cords.

—Turn Christmas tree lights off before going to bed.

—Use a surge protector on all lighting connections.

—Check the function of and batteries in all smoke detectors.

Garcia added that outdoor Christmas lights should be turned off before going to bed. Outdoor lights, especially those under the house eaves, could start a fire which would get into the attic before smoke detectors sounded.

Remind the kids that turning off the lights won't affect Santa's ability to find his cookies and milk in the dark.

North Hancock Business Assn. collects toys

The North Hancock Business Association will sponsor "Christmas for the Children" toy collection drive Saturday at Waveland Resort Inn, lobby area.

The event will be from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. For additional information, call 255-2555 or 255-1188.

An antique car display will also be featured at the same time.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Christmas activities really are hopping this week in the community, and it is hoped they will be well attended.

This evening at 5 is the Hancock Bank Diamondhead Merchants Christmas Showing at the Days Inn. On Friday and Saturday several Bay St. Louis businesses will feature open houses.

At 10 a.m. Saturday, those wishing to take possibly a little weight off before the big holiday eating season, may want to consider the Diamondhead 5K/Run/Walk and 1-Mile Fun Run. Information can be obtained from the Sports Locker, 255-3102.

Saturday's highlight will be the Hancock County Red Ribbon Christmas Parade beginning at 11 a.m.

The parade is set from Beach Boulevard at Highway 90 to Main Street, Main to Dunbar Avenue, Dunbar to Highland Drive, Highland to the J.D. McCullough Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

The second annual Toys for Tots football game sponsored by law enforcement agencies is set to begin at noon. A football queen and princesses will be named. Proceeds are to go to the Hancock County Doll and Toy fund.

Moving to 4 p.m. on Saturday, the Kiln Community Tree Lighting is scheduled. There will be Christmas caroling and refreshments.

Also at 4, a Christmas concert of hymns and carols will be presented by the Main Street United Methodist Church's Chancel Choir, Handbell Ringers and Methodist Youth Ensembles. The church is located on Main Street next to the courthouse.

This will be followed at 5 by the lighting of the Red Ribbon Christmas tree at the Hancock County Courthouse.

I know Hancock County's Circuit Clerk Pam Metzler and her staff have been busy this week with some help from Coast Electric and others in making preparation.

A special Christmas story will be offered by local historian Charles Gray.

The Christmas scene this week will also include the grand opening of Christmas Card Lane in Waveland with a musical program between 7 and 8 p.m.

It is my understanding there will be a choir of about 40 or 50 people from Word of Faith Church.

Santa will be there from 7 to 9 to talk with the youngsters and seek their special requests. Santa will have favors for the kids, too.

Christmas Card Lane (Mollere Drive, Waveland) was the original Christmas neighborhood effort in recent years to bring Christmas cheer to the community. It is a fun time for folks of all ages.

Saturday night can be topped off by attending The Nutcracker at Bay High Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. (sold-out). Tickets are available for a matinee is also set for 1 p.m. on Sunday.

Sunday from 1 to 3 there will be a Hancock County Historical Society invitation for you to visit area churches.

Refreshments will be served at the Kate Lobrano House, Cue Street, (across street from courthouse), and maps available for open churches.

Churches are to include, Main Street United Methodist, First Baptist, St. Augustine Seminary and Grotto, St. Rose de Lima, Our Lady of the Gulf and Christ Episcopal.

The Festival of Lights on Coleman Avenue celebration will be from 5 to 8 p.m. Sunday.

The Christmas lighting is set for 5 p.m. and the arrival of Santa. Entertainment is to include the St. Rose de Lima Choir, the Joy Fellowship Choir, The Bay Four and After, and the St. Clare Adult Choir.

Coleman Avenue merchants will have open houses with refreshments and there will be old time trolley rides and end with a Christmas bonfire at Coleman and the Beach.

These are just a few of the special events going on in our communities.

As you can see, Hancock County is on the move, and I am very proud of the efforts everyone is beginning to put into our community.

By dreaming, wishing, discussing, planning and working together, so many good things can happen in our community.

On Friday night the annual Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be held at the Diamondhead Country Club.

Col. Frederick D. Gregory, former Astronaut and current associate administrator of Safety and Mission Quality for NASA, is scheduled to be the featured speaker.

For those interested and maybe having a special question, it is my understanding that Col. Gregory will be available for questions at the end of the banquet ceremonies.

The chamber will make several presentations, including the Citizen of the Year award.

I missed last year's banquet, but I am making plans on being there this year.

CONSUMER TIPS

Boiler room scams

Easy access to inexpensive phone and computer systems have made it easier for clever con artists to set up scams—so called "boiler room" operations—to peddle inferior or non-existent items or services at inflated prices.

Consumers are complaining about mail solicitations or high pressure phone calls from companies whose promoters make incredible promises or offer fantastic prizes in exchange for a quick sale, a product order, or an investment.

These operations have come to be referred to as "boiler room" scams because they employ high pressure telephone sales tactics to entice victims to buy. It is estimated they cost consumers millions of dollars a year.

What makes these operations illegal is that operators deliberately misrepresent the product or they "fail to render" the product to the buyer. They may involve mail fraud if the mail is used, or they could violate State Consumer Protection Laws.

Some begin with a direct mail solicitation which indicates the recipient has already won a fantastic prize and then gives a number the consumer can call to claim the prize. Others start with an unsolicited telephone call in which the caller misrepresenting the identity of the business or the quality of the product, creates a sense of urgency in placing an immediate order.

Individual consumers can avoid being taken by these scams by being alert, asking a lot of questions and refusing to give out credit card numbers unless they are absolutely sure of the legitimacy of the offer or proposal.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

From the Mississippi Economic Council

The principle of the thing

The issue of workers' compensation continues to be a buzzword for the states as they struggle to find ways to cut back on the abuse of the system while still protecting those who need the coverage.

Mississippi has had its share of problems with workers' comp, as evidenced at the beginning of the year when several of the largest underwriters of workers' comp in the state pulled out or threatened to pull out because of heavy losses. The Legislature then took steps to strengthen the system.

However, workers' compensation is a national headache that's not going anywhere until the abuse can be stopped, and the abuse is unbelievable.

A recent Wall Street Journal editorial provided some examples: a Florida woman awarded disability benefits after she "complained of mental stress from working alongside 'large black males,'" and lawyers in California lurking outside factories that have suffered layoffs to recruit clients with "stress" cases.

According to the editorial, one clinic in Los Angeles offers "the workers' comp equivalent of frequent flier miles—a free trip to Las Vegas for anybody who visited the clinic 30 times in three months."

Like Mississippi, several states have been forced to act. Oregon and Colorado have set the standard for other states to follow with their passage of legislation designed to provide maximum benefits for workers while lowering the premiums for the employers.

A gentleman named Abe Martin once said, "When a fellow says it ain't the money but the principle of the thing, it's the money."

Positive change is still needed in the workers' comp system in Mississippi, so that the system can fulfill its original intent. Perhaps then we can get back to operating our workers' comp system on the principle of the thing.

Let the dead rest in peace

Once again the grave sites of our ancestors are being tampered with in Hancock County.

This time it is the Indian burial grounds at the Bayou LaCroix Cemetery being disturbed.

I have been informed by Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, there are very strict Mississippi laws to deal with those who tamper with Indian burial grounds.

It seems we cannot go through a year without having a grave site disturbed in our county, and this is a shame.

Just a few months ago, a tomb was broken into and a coffin removed at another cemetery.

It is hoped that all who are responsible for tampering with grave sites, no matter who they are, will be apprehended.

Decorate safely for an injury-free holiday

The holiday season means tinsel, greenery, trees, wrappings, candles and lights. Unfortunately, holiday trimmings have potential to cause serious health risks to children. "The fire risks with candles, dried greenery and lighted trees are obvious," notes Christy Gilliland, Mississippi SAFE KIDS spokesperson.

"Breakable ornaments can cause injuries, and small holiday decorations can become choking hazards. We hope parents will recognize these safety concerns and child proof as they decorate."

Michael Hughes, managing director of Regional Poison Control Center at the University of Mississippi Medical Center, reminds parents that many holiday plants also pose danger to children.

"Unfortunately, many of the poisonous varieties commonly used to decorate attract children with their bright colors and berries," warns Hughes. Hughes points out that even though some plants may not be toxic, ingestion can cause irritation or gastrointestinal symptoms.

Although all holiday plants are not potential hazards, Hughes suggests that parents be cautious about the plants and greenery placed in reach of young hands. According to Hughes, "poisonings" can also occur when children ingest fire salts, tree flocking, or potpourri oils. "All potentially poisonous substances should be kept out of the reach of children," advises Hughes.

Parents should also be concerned about safety when visiting relatives or friends during the holidays. "Families without children are seldom aware of the child safety risks in their homes," explains Gilliland. "When taking children to visit friends or relatives, parents should check the surroundings for safety."

Mississippi SAFE KIDS has prepared a list of decorating tips to help minimize hazards in your home as you decorate for this festive season.

* Look for a fresh Christmas tree—Fresh trees are less likely to catch fire.

* When purchasing an artificial tree, check to insure that it is fire resistant.

* Keep trees and greenery away from heat sources such as radiators, candles and fireplaces.

* Do not place candles near draperies or live greenery.

* Turn off tree lights when you go to bed or leave the house.

* Do not overload extension cords with lights and keep toddlers away from electrical fixtures and cords.

* Do not burn wrapping paper, trees or Christmas greenery in fireplaces.

* Avoid decorating with breakable ornaments and ornaments with small detachable parts.

* Tinsel, ornaments and lights should be placed on tree branches above a toddler's reach.

* Beware of flocked trees—Children may think the flocking material is edible and it may actually be poisonous.

* Dispose of colored wrapping paper immediately—it may contain lead and other material toxic to small children if chewed.

* Refrain from using decorations which look like food or candy—Young toddlers are often unable to distinguish between real objects and reproductions.

* Keep fire salts used to create colored flames out of children's reach—They contain heavy metals and can cause intense gastrointestinal irritation if eaten.

* Keep harmful plants out of reach—plants which are poisonous or could cause problems if ingested include: Amaryllis, Azalea, Boxwood, Castor Bean, Christmas Rose, Crown of Thorns, English and American Ivy, Holly Berries, Jerusalem or Christmas Cherry, Mountain Laurel, Poinsettias, and Mistletoe.

This holiday season remember to make injury prevention an important part of your plans. By taking a few precautions, you can make this a memorable and safe time of year.

For further information regarding potential holiday poisonings contact the Regional Poison Control Center at 354-7660. Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Mississippi SAFE KIDS Coalition, which is coordinated by the Division of Disabilities Prevention, a Division of the Mississippi Department of Rehabilitation Services (1-800-852-8328).

STREET TALK

Do you feel the U.S. should send troops to Somalia?

"No, they didn't do any good during Desert Storm. As far as my opinion on wars, they all suck. The situation should be solved without war."

Sergeant Frank Bay St. Louis

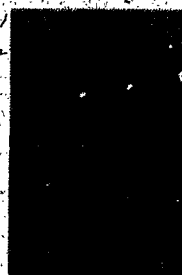

"No, I don't think that is our fight. We have enough starvation and hunger right here in the U.S. we need to take care of before we start sending help overseas."

Pat Steele Bay St. Louis

"I don't know. I hate the idea of sending troops anywhere, but if it's necessary...I would rather see economic aid, but I guess we need the troops to get the aid to the people. It's almost a Catch-22 situation."

Richard Abbrecht Bay St. Louis

"No, I don't think we can afford to get involved in another country's problems."

Mary Martinez Waveland

"No, 'cause they spend enough money on everybody else. They need to spend it on our own. They should help the people here; there are people here starving they need to be feeding."

pumped to the Buccaneer Park area at a lower cost, than that from the proposed Henderson Point, Pass Christian site.

Bill Mitchell of Brown and Mitchell Engineering estimated a savings of at least $150,000 should the Bayou Caddy site be acceptable.

Mitchell appeared before the board requesting authorization to begin advertisement for the Sand Beach Renourishment Project, now three years in planning.

Areas for proposed renourishment are Washington Avenue, Coleman Avenue and Buccaneer Park.

Mitchell stated, since Hurricane Andrew, additional sand loss in each of the areas are: Coleman Avenue - 4,000 cubic yards; Washington Avenue - 600 cubic yards; and Buccaneer Park - 14,000 cubic yards.

The plan calls for a total of 327,600 cubic yards of sand to be added to Hancock beaches at an estimated cost between $2.35 and $2.45 million.

The board postponed advertisement approval until the Dec. 9 meeting. A time frame was discussed in which bids could be advertised, opened and awarded by the end of January, with work to begin by February.

Board members stated the current seawall fund contains more than $900,000. Mitchell suggested the board use seawall funds until bonds could be validated and completed, approximated at $2 million.

BUSES

The purchase of two 21-passenger buses by Coast Transit Authority for service in Hancock was approved by the board.

The county will pay $14,000, 20 percent of the estimated $70,000 cost. The remaining 80 percent will be paid by a Federal Transit Administration grant.

The $14,000 will be taken from the 1993-94 budget.

The two new buses will replace those currently being used by the county Seniors Citizens' and Mental Health programs.

OTHER BUSINESS

Gex reported the Bay St. Louis Residential Care Center debt has been reduced to $198,000, after discovery of a unrecorded payment by the center to the county was found and correctly applied to the previous debt total of $200,615.

He also stated letters were recently mailed to senators Trent Lott and Thad Cochran, and Representative Gene Taylor requesting their cooperation in meeting with board members for the discussion of current laws governing sewerage disposal and waste water overflow.

Approval was given for:

- the tax department to enter into a $600 per year maintenance contract decollater, used in the separation of copies;
- purchase of a $4,240 copy machine for the jail on state contract;
- purchase of screens, sirens, speakers and racks for two newly purchased sheriff's department vehicles, totaling $909;
- purchase of a $1,150 computer system for the jail;
- purchase of repair parts for the road and bridge department, totaling $897;
- acceptance of the Clermont Harbor/Lakeshore Fire Protection District yearly financial report;
- the opening of the county tax assessors office for a half day on Saturdays during the month of January;
- and payment of the November 16-30 county payroll.

Kopf stated, the FCA is open to all high school students, not just athletes.

He commented, the board should consider a limit on non-curriculum related clubs and draft guidelines defining what constitutes a legitimate club.

Gex said he would give a legal opinion Monday when the district meets for its regular December meeting.

The board voted to hire Jessie Canon, a mechanical engineer, to provide specifications for replacement of two heating and air conditioning units at the Hancock County Vocational-Technical School.

The board approved:

- the transfer of Becky Chaffer to the Hancock Junior High School office as secretary for the remainder of the school year;
- employment of Preston D. Hickman, substitute teacher;

Four arrested poaching deer

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Four people were arrested November 18 on Highway 604 in Pearllington and charged with three hunting violations, according to Jim Walker, public relations director for Mississippi State Wildlife and Fisheries Department.

The names of the individuals will not be released until after a court hearing, Walker stated, as it is the policy of the department.

Walker explained since there are no felony statutes under Wildlife and Fisheries in Mississippi, the department legally need not release the names.

The four individuals were charged with three violations: hunting with the aid of a light, hunting from a motorized vehicle and hunting from a public road.

All charges are misdemeanor violations.

If found guilty, the hunting with the aid of a light charge alone, holds a minimum fine of $500 to a maximum of $1,000. Also confiscation of vehicles and weapons can be applied.

Walker said the charges have been given to the Hancock County Circuit Clerk for determination of a court date.

ON PATROL

GROWING MARIJUANA

A Bay St. Louis resident was arrested Monday on drug-related charges, according to Hancock County Metro Narcotics Task Force director Glen Strong.

Strong said Kenneth Joseph Fountain, 35, of 874 Washington Street, was arrested at approximately 4:50 p.m. behind his residence and was charged with growing and cultivating marijuana. Seized were four marijuana plants, each approximately five feet tall, several buckets of mulch and plant food.

Strong said Fountain was released on a $2,000 bond. Task force member Officer Shane Corr of the Bay St. Louis Police Department was the arresting officer. Assisting were Bay St. Louis task force representatives Officers Terry Eley and Kevin Fayard.

BURGLARY OF AN AUTO

Bay St. Louis Police Investigator Tom Burleson reported the arrests of two men Monday on burglary charges.

Burleson said Stephen Phillip Barnes, 23, of 204 Pine Ridge Drive, Waveland, and Jerry Wayne Lott, 19, of 5215 First Street, Bay St. Louis, were arrested at about 3:43 p.m. Monday and charged with burglary of an auto after a vehicle break-in was reported at 4:45 p.m. November 27 at the First Precinct Lounge parking lot.

According to the report, a cellular phone, pair of binoculars and a $5mm camera were taken. All items were recovered.

Burleson said both men were released under bonds of $1,000 each. Burleson was the arresting officer and is in charge of the investigation.

Sales

The fastest moving items there included sweaters, stirrup pants, accessories and party wear, as well as suede walking shorts and hand-painted silk items.

"We were pleasantly surprised at how well we did last weekend," she added.

The Kid Company's Nancy Uram stated, "I had probably the best after-Thanksgiving weekend I ever had."

The only less-than-sweet part for her, she added, was that local patronage of the shop was low. "All my customers were from out of town," Uram commented. "One day, everyone who came into the store was from New Orleans."

GIFTS AND BOOKS

Clothing and jewelry were not the only hot sellers during the post-Thanksgiving weekend. Books and other gifts items also did well.

Bookends owner Susan Daire commented, "We did real well, which was surprising, to tell you the truth. For the past five years, we've had just an average day (the day after Thanksgiving), but this year we had a great day."

"You know what I attribute it to? I think it's the crisp weather. It's getting people into the Christmas spirit."

Ellen Kane at Ellen Kane Gifts also reported brisk sales.

"I was very busy. I had two real fine days. We're off to a good start."

Georgia Leyser, who sells gourmet food items through Jeanne-Anne's Hallmark in Bay St. Louis, commented of store traffic, "It's been real steady since Open House, November 14 and 15. But yes, sales were up last Friday."

DEPARTMENT STORES

Wal Mart manager Jack Latil said, "We had a tremendous weekend. We surpassed every sales figure we ever had for this location."

"We did well in just about every department. Also, this was our first time to try selling live Christmas trees, and we sold out the first weekend. We've had to order more."

Paul McElveen, manager of Kmart, also was happy with his store's sales. "We had an excellent sales weekend. Toys and electronics, jewelry, fashions and clothing were our hottest sellers."

Frank Davis at Bookends

Bookends Bookstore will host a visit by author and TV personality Frank Davis Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

The public is invited to a special recipe-tasting and autographing of either Naturally N'awlins or the Seafood Notebook.

If unable to attend, but wishing to reserve a personalized copy of a Davis book, call 467-9623.

Republicans slate annual holiday party

A Christmas party hosted by the Hancock County Republican Club and the Hancock County Republican Executive Committee will be Saturday, Dec. 5, 7-10 p.m. at the Diamondhead Community Center.

Members will donate finger foods, and the executive committee will set up a cash bar.

Wood, Fredian to reign over Krewe of Kamehameha

Special to the Echo
King Akua Kai XIX Robert "Bob" Wood and his Queen, Lee Fredian, will reign over the Krewe of Kamehameha for 1993.

Wood and his wife of 18 years, Kathy, moved to Diamondhead in 1989 from Dallas, Tex. He is a graduate of Southern Methodist University in Dallas with a BA in mathematics. He served four years in the United States Air Force, mostly in the Azores.

Wood was a senior actuary for Southwest Life Insurance Company, had his own insurance business, and retired in 1983 as vice president of VALIC (Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company) the parent company of General Life Insurance.

Since moving to Diamondhead, he has been an active member of the Diamondhead Boaters Association, the Diamondhead Community Association, the Diamondhead Men's Golf Association.

He has been a volunteer with the Hancock County American Heart Association, and was elected to the Diamondhead Property Owner's Association Board, serving two years as treasurer.

Bob is an avid golfer. He and Kathy have five children and six grandchildren.

Lee Fredian has been living in Diamondhead for 18 years. She has been active in both community and charitable organizations. Early on, she was ways and means chairman for the Diamondhead Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary. She was the first Neighborhood Watch chairman for the Diamondhead Community Association.

A long time Boater, Lee has decorated boats and participated in sea parades, performed at many Mardi Gras Balls, written the Boaters column and was elected to Boaters Advisory Board this year.

A garden club member for many years, Fredian has chaired both flower shows and pilgrimage and has been ways and means chairman for the past four years. She is treasurer

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

Upon learning early this year that our daughter, Wendy, would be moving from Chicago to New Providence, N.J., I started planning our parade visit.

For many years I have spent Thanksgiving morning fixing various dishes for the traditional "turkey day feast." In between chopping seasonings for the two dressings, preparing the sweet potato casserole, and those wonderful stewed potatoes that "Mawmaw" used to make, we made sure to watch the television as often as possible, so we would not miss the wonderful Macy's parade taking place in New York City.

I had always thought how great it would be to be there in person. This year my dream came true because my husband, daughter and I were "in that number."

And, oh, what a number it was! The crowds were overwhelming, like being on Bourbon Street at Mardi Gras.

The weather was pretty nasty with rain and wind, but at least it wasn't freezing cold or snowing, so we were able to enjoy those marvelous balloons (this year's addition was a giant "Goofy") floats, music and entertainment, and of course the fabulous New York City.

Plan to drive as we did, and take the historical route through Tennessee, the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, Virginia and Pennsylvania with its Amish Country — so many things to see and do along the way.

Performing Arts presents "Nutcracker"

The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society will close its 1992 season by presenting Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" Sunday, Dec. 13, 5 p.m., at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The Jefferson Ballet Company will perform under the choreography of Myra Mier and the production of the Jefferson Performing Arts Society.

Admission is $12.50 adults (includes complimentary cocktail), $9.50 for children under 13. To obtain tickets, send a check and self-addressed, stamped envelope to Diamond-head Performing Arts Society, 443 Yacht Club Drive, Suite 701, Diamondhead, MS 39525.

For information, call Carol Novak, 255-6042. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Tips On Writing EFFECTIVE Classified Ads

STICK TO THE FACTS

Prospective buyers need to know details, like the condition of the item for sale, the size, brand name, color and any other relevant information that would help them make a decision.

BE HONEST

Aside from being unethical, exaggerating or misinforming potential buyers won't help you make a sale, and may only serve to lose a prospective buyer's trust. Even if they come to look at what you have to sell, they'll be less likely to buy the item or trust you once they see they've been misled.

SPELL IT OUT

Abbreviations are not easily understood by many people and may even confuse a reader. It only takes them a second to pass over an ad because it doesn't seem clear, why let it be yours because you abbreviated a description?

THE BOTTOM LINE

State the price. You'll save yourself the hassle of having to answer calls from prospects who, upon learning the price, are not really interested. Price is the first thing they'll look for when reading your ad, and when prospects know the price, you'll know you have a serious buyer on the line.

BE THERE

List the best hours to call and make sure you're at home. If you don't list a specific time, you could be flooded with calls any time of the day or night. And when you're not at home to take calls, most likely, they won't call back.

ASK US

Individual scoring statistics were not available for the Bay High/St. Martin game.

SSC claims soccer tournament title

Special to the Echo
St. Stanislaus started the Vanderbilt Catholic Tournament by winning its first game by a score of 4-1. The victory came against St. Charles Catholic of Gramercy, La.

SSC started with a goal in the first third minutes with Beau Schindler assisting Konstantine Koloskov.

Koloskov came back with two more goals with one scoring unassisted and the next assisted by Charles Oliver.

Brad Cannon scored the final goal unassisted, ending the first half SSC 4, St. Charles 0.

SSC's second and third teams played a scoreless second half until St. Charles scored in the final four minutes, ending the game 4-1.

SSC-5, Woodlawn 0
In the second game, SSC defeated Woodlawn of Baton Rouge, La. 5-0.

The first points came with Roberto Jimenez scoring an unassisted goal half way through the first half.

The Rocks scored seven minutes later with a goal by Charles Oliver assisted by Brad Cannon.

The first half ended with SSC on top, 2-0. The Rocks wasted no time scoring three goals in the first 10 minutes of the second half.

Beau Schindler scored with an assist by Nathan Middleton; Konstantine Koloskov scored with an assist by Schindler.

The final goal was scored with a diving header by Eduardo Jimenez, crossed by Charles Oliver.

The shutout was complete with a fine defensive effort by Shawn Morel (keeper) Scott Emmel, Stanley Chapman, Neil Heitzman and Drew Seafide.

SSC's second and third teams completed the last 20 minutes of the game keeping Woodlawn in check.

SSC-4, H. L. Bourgeois 0

In the third game of bracket play, SSC defeated H. L. Bourgeois of New Orleans, 4-0, posting their second shutout of the tournament.

The defense had another excellent game, not allowing any goals. Konstantine Koloskov led the scoring with two goals. Beau Schindler and Robbie Morrison (eighth grade) each had one goal. Assists came from Scott Pepperman, Brad Cannon and Danny Patton.

This victory sent SSC to the semi-finals versus Mandeville.

SSC-2, Mandeville 1

The semi-final game started with SSC scoring two quick goals.

Koloskov scored his seventh goal of the tournament assisted by Charles Oliver.

The second goal was unassisted by Nathan Middleton. The Skippers of Mandeville scored a goal in the final minute of the first half making the score 2-1.

The defense held up their end by keeping Mandeville scoreless in the second half allowing St. Stanislaus to advance to the finals versus Vanderbilt Catholic of Houma, La.

SSC-3, Vanderbilt 1

The final was the first real pressure game for the Rocks. SSC played its best game of the season winning the championship by the score of 3-1.

Vanderbilt scored the first goal of the game to take the lead. This made the Rocks more aggressive, and they took over at that point.

Koloskov scored his first of two goals in the final minute of the first half to tie up the game. Cannon scored the team's second goal in the second half. Koloskov scored his final goal of the game with two minutes left, stealing the victory for SSC.

Nathan Middleton had both assists for Koloskov's two goals.

miraculously saved.

Sharon Bradley, Gwinn Krost, and Kristin Selle were instrumental in keeping the ball out of the OLA net. Amy Lee turned in a fine performance not only on defense, but also on the attack. She made runs up field, turning in an assist on a goal.

In the attack, Caroline Weems became Mercy Cross's worst nightmare, pounding in three goals, all of which were scored outside the penalty area. The other two goals were scored by Annette Morel and Nicole Krost, who also had an assist each. Other assists were provided by Mallory Mestayer and Marion Labat.

OLA travels to Slidell today to face off against Pope John Paul Catholic School in an attempt to even up the win-loss column. The Lady Crescents are currently 2-3 for the season.

OLA ends losing streak

Our Lady Academy started the third week of the 1992 soccer season blanking Mercy Cross Catholic School 5-0.

The Lady Crescents were dominant in the game after recovering from a three-game losing streak. Harry Hull, athletic director, was very pleased.

"I believe we can now put the losses behind us," said Hull. "Everything came together tonight; we started taking the long shots, we played a tight defense, and every girl on the team hustled for the full 80 minutes of the match."

The OLA defenders demonstrated their mettle by virtually shutting down Mercy Cross's attack allowing only nine shots on goal. One of the shots came from a penalty kick toward the end of the game which Sarah Smolensky, OLA goalkeeper, LeFevre with 14.6 and Megan Uram with 11.7.

All three girls are among the top 10 scorers in girls' basketball on the Coast. Morey LeFevre leads the team in rebounds (11.8) and steals (6.7). Megan Uram leads in assists (6.7), followed by Mandy Williams with 4.8.

Saturday's games begin at 2 p.m. at the CEHS gymnasium in Esby Avenue in Pass Christian with the girls' varsity, followed by the boys' varsity.

Undefeated Raiders look for homecoming wins

The Coast Episcopal Red Raiders will host Chamberlain-Hunt Academy on Saturday afternoon for their homecoming game.

The boys varsity, under the direction of Coach Keith McQueen, is nine games into the season with a perfect 9-0 record (6-0 in district play). The Raiders look forward to redeeming last year's homecoming loss in a close, hard-fought game to Chamberlain-Hunt.

The team is averaging 674 points per game while allowing only 44.4 points. Three Coast Episcopal players are among the top 20 scoring leaders on the Coast with Adrian Breaux averaging 21.4 points per game, Joey Fore, 15.3 and Lamar Price, 14.

The Raiders lead the opposition in rebounds (40.7 to 27.1). Lamar Price, averaging 12.8 per game, is the leader, followed by Joey Fore with 8 per game. Adrian Breaux leads the Raiders in assists with 8.2 per game. In other statistics, the Raiders lead their opposition in field goal percentages (44.4% to 28.8%) and foul tries (56% to 50.4%). Tommy Rumrill leads the team in blocked shots with 2.8, followed by Lamar Price with 2.4 per game.

The girls' varsity team, coached by Kristin Townson, also goes into Saturday's game with a perfect 9-0 record (and 6-0 in district play).

Vanessa Shiyou leads the team in scoring with 15.1 points per game, followed by Morey

LeFevre with 14.6 and Megan Uram with 11.7.

All three girls are among the top 10 scorers in girls' basketball on the Coast. Morey LeFevre leads the team in rebounds (11.8) and steals (6.7). Megan Uram leads in assists (6.7), followed by Mandy Williams with 4.8.

Saturday's games begin at 2 p.m. at the CEHS gymnasium in Esby Avenue in Pass Christian with the girls' varsity, followed by the boys' varsity.

Face-off

The "lean and mean fighting machines" of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department and Bay St. Louis Police Department football teams, psyche themselves up for Saturday's Doll and Toy Fund flag football game. Hidden among the ranks of participants are Waveland policemen, state troopers, forestry personnel and fire department personnel, all officially commissioned to the competing departments for the day. Those participating include: BSL — Kevin Fayard, Bubba Malley, Don Watson, Rick Fayard, Rene Baum (quarterback), Jim Martin, Gary Ponthieux, Guy Ponthieux Jr., Wayne

"Just to prove how fast our men are," Karl added, "look here at Joe Kepfer. He got a whiplash, just watching our guys run."

Kepfer, seated near Karl, wore a neck brace.

As the comparison of teams continued—it became obvious—this contest could only be proven on the field of glory, and with many reliable witnesses.

Admission to the 1 p.m. game is one doll or toy, new or slightly used, which will be presented to BSL Fire Department Chief and administrator of the Hancock County Doll and Toy Fund, Andrew Lizana.

The Doll and Toy Fund will also receive the proceeds from football court competition and concession collections.

A Queen and Princess will be announced from nine nominees from area schools. Each young lady has been busy soliciting votes for a penny each. The two students with the greatest number of votes will reign for the day.

The Gulfview Points of Light Club and the Hancock County Lawmen's Association will be serving gumbo at the concession stand, along with hot dogs, hot chocolate and assorted of the county Christmas Tree will take place.

RED RIBBON PARADE

The day begins at 11 a.m. with the annual Hancock County snacks.

Following the game the Bay St. Louis United Methodist Church on Main Street will hold a Christmas Concert, beginning at 4 p.m.

The choir will leave the church, upon completion of the concert, and proceed to the courthouse, where the lighting ty Red Ribbon Christmas Parade.

Hancock Chamber of Commerce director Cindy Vernon reported parade participation has grown to presently include over 50 units, between floats, cars, bands and marching units.

"The interest and cooperation expressed this year has been just remarkable," Vernon stated.

The parade will leave from Highway 90 and Beach Boulevard, and turning onto Main Street, will make its way to Old Spanish Trail and Dunbar Avenue. From here the parade will turn right and crossing Highway 90 proceed to Highland Drive and to J.D. McCulloch Stadium.

Santa Claus himself will bring up the tail end of the parade and remain throughout the football game to visit with the children.

McNeil and Peterson each confided, Santa picked their team as favorite.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Slow trolling, wade fishing produce catches of large trout

It's time to go fishin' y'all. It must be time for the "blue" fish to start showing up in the surf. I mean how else can you explain the two surf fishermen who were seen last week in waist-deep water, fishing.

The temperature of the air was somewhere around 40 degrees, so I can only hypothesize (50 cent word) that the brave souls out in the water were fishing for blue fish. Or else the men with the white coats and straight jackets would have been close by.

Since this is the type of weather, and temperature range, that causes turtles to hibernate, I thought maybe I better check out what these folks were doing out in the water. Guess what? They not only catch trout this way, but the trout they catch are humongous (deduct 50 cents for this word).

That's right. They catch some really nice trout in the deep surf in cold weather.

The catch is you either have to wear a "wet" suit like the scuba divers wear, or you need to consult those guys in the white coats.

The thought has occurred that if you can catch fish in the deep surf by wade fishing, why not try slow trolling in the deep surf? It sure would be a lot warmer, and you could cover more ground.

Slow trolling seems to have been the most productive method of catching trout this past week. Reports from most of the deep bayous and canals indicate that enough trout to eat have been caught by most fishermen this past week, at least those who were able to get to go out to the bayous and canals this past week.

A good piece of equipment to have on board your boat this time of year is a depth finder/fish finder. This piece of equipment will enable you to find the deep holes that the fish like to gang up in during cold weather.

This tactic paid off big time for at least one boat out of LaFrance this past week. They located a hole in the Lake Borgne area and did a mop up job supreme on the trout.

On the fresh water scene, some reports are starting to come in of some nice catches of Sac-A-Lac (crappie) from both the Jourdan River area and the Mullet Bayou area. Reports also indicate that the bass are getting hungry in most fresh water areas.

Going on to other subjects, since the fishing is slow, I came across a petition, this past week that calls for a public hearing on the possibility of establishing a game management area in Hancock County.

This seems like a great idea as available lands for public use are getting lesser and lesser every year. If there is a possibility that some land can be set aside for public use, while there is still land available, we certainly should look into the possibility of setting that land aside for future generations.

This is the time of year to contact your representative so that he can prepare to talk about your concerns in the upcoming session of the legislature.

This week's wonderful wise words: Are blue fish and blue toes related?

What men in white coats, turtle?

Cowboys are conference champs

Special to the Echo

Going into the final round of play for their age division, the 11-and-12-year-old Bay American Legion Cowboys broke a three-way tie by defeating the Lakeshore Bulldogs and the Hancock Hawks.

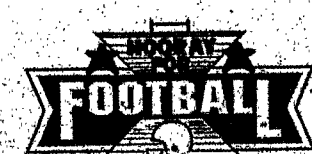

The Cowboys faced the Bulldogs Wednesday evening in a hard-fought game that saw Ronald Brown moved to quarterback as Jamie Cuevas was out with injuries. Others on the injured list included Chris Ray and Jace Bourgeois.

Brown did a great job leading the Cowboys to a 13-6 victory, and Robbie Henderson and Tony Benton each scored a touchdown. Benton added both PATs.

Outstanding defensive players included Justin Wadsworth, Patrick Martinez, Dimitri Shorntick, Earl Fayard, Brandon Everett, Stoney Dossett and Steven Knight.

The Cowboys faced the Hawks Thursday evening for another exciting game, as the Bay team clinched the conference championship with a 12-6 win.

Coach Fred Peterman said he was very proud of the defense as they continued to dominate play.

Brown was credited with five sacks, and the offense was handed an early opportunity for scoring on a punt that was blocked by Stephen Peterman and recovered by Knight. Brown rolled out to pass to Benton, who took the ball in for the TD. The PAT was unsuccessful.

and the Cowboys led 6-0.

The Cowboys scored again quickly, on their next possession. Benton again secured the touchdown on a handoff and a run around the end from the 20-yard line. Again, the PAT failed, and the score was 12-0 at the end of the first half.

The Hawks took the ball on the kickoff to open the second half of play and advanced to the 50-yard line. Several penalties by the Cowboys advanced the ball to the Hawks' 5.

Hancock scored on a run around the end of the game, but the PAT was blocked, and the score was 12-6 where it remained for the rest of the game.

The Cowboys defense held the field on a drive by Fustich, Shorntick, and Brown. Warner, captain of the Hawks, was out with an injury. The Hawks' last possession ended in a turnover on downs. The final score was 12-6.

The Bob Harmon Forecast

NFL Forecast for Thursday, Sunday and Monday
Dec. 3, 6 and 7

*New Orleans, 32—Atlanta, 14
(Thursday) In a battle of defenses and special teams in September, the Saints beat the Falcons 10-7. New Orleans' defense is so strong that its offense hasn't had to score a lot of points to win.

*Buffalo, 30—N.Y. Jets, 20
(Sunday) The Jets lost a close Monday-nighter to the Bills six weeks ago, 24-20, when Jim Kelly led Buffalo on a dramatic last-ditch drive for the winning TD. The Bills have won 10 straight over N.Y.

*Cleveland, 27—Cincinnati, 19
In their first meeting last month, Cleveland never got into the game and lost 30-10. Having lost six of their last seven against Cincinnati, the Browns had better decide that enough is enough.

Dallas, 24—Denver, 21
As far as Super Bowl previews are concerned, this one's a very long shot—at least on the AFC side. The Cowboys and Broncos have played twice since 1989 and Denver has won both times.

*Green Bay, 26—Detroit, 22
Looking at least for one game like a real team, the Packers beat the Lions 27-13 in November. Detroit is playing for pride, not wanting to finish at the bottom of the NFC Central.

Kansas City, 28—L.A. Raiders, 27
The Chiefs reduced the Raiders to 0-4 on a Monday night in September, dominating both the offensive and defensive lines and winning 27-7. K.C. should make it seven in a row against L.A.

L.A. Rams, 21—Tampa Bay, 16
Since 1984 the Rams have won five straight from the Buccaneers, most recently 35-14 in 1990. With both teams struggling, it's hard to believe that they once (in 1979) played for the NFC title.

*New England, 27—Indianapolis, 24
Three weeks ago, in an overtime thriller ended by a Charlie Baumann field goal, the Colts had the dubious honor of being the Patriots' first victims of 1992, 37-34. N.E. still looks stronger.

*N.Y. Giants, 29—Washington, 28
When these two teams met at RFK five weeks ago, Giants coach Ray Handley heard boos aimed at somebody else as the Giants shocked the Redskins 24-7. N.Y. can repay both '91 losses to the 'Skins.

*Philadelphia, 33—Minnesota, 30
The Eagles have beaten the Vikings three out of the last four times they've played, and should make it four out of five. In a dogfight with Dallas in the NFC East, they need the win more.

*Pittsburgh, 28—Seattle, 8
This should be a blowout, but then again, Seattle beat Pittsburgh easily—at Three Rivers—last year, 27-7. Then again, the Seahawks are our choice for the NFL's worst team this season.

San Diego, 24—Phoenix, 13
Though they haven't played since 1989, the Chargers have won four of the five times they've faced the Cardinals. S.D. may be the league's most underrated team, and Phoenix its most unpredictable.

*San Francisco, 31—Miami, 27
This is another long-shot Super Bowl possibility, between teams that have met there before (in 1984) but haven't played each other in six years. We're not sure Miami is as good as its record.

*Houston, 30—Chicago, 19
(Monday) Three seasons ago, the last time the Oilers and Bears met, Houston won 33-28. That total looks about right for Houston, but its strong defense will hold Chicago to quite a bit less.

A 'Meeting of the Tribes'

Hancock Elementary students learn about Native American heritage

Hancock North Central Elementary School's five sixth grade classes recently held a "Meeting of the Tribes" following a detailed study of Native Americans.

During the study, each homeroom class selected a tribal name and symbol, and each classroom displayed Native American arts, crafts and relics. Two of the classes even constructed life-size teepees to include in their classroom displays.

The teaching of the unit on Native Americans was based on the whole language approach which involved the children in using all modes of communication: reading, writing, listening, observing, illustrating, experiencing and doing.

The departmentalized teachers use the thematic planning brought all subject areas into the unit for the duration of the study.

Parent volunteers had a major role in the unit, too. Utilizing the school's DOTS Lab, they cooked Indian bread for the students to sample. They also spent two weeks assisting the students with designing and painting rhythm instruments and tribal t-shirts for the assembly program. More than 140 shirts were decorated for the event.

The unit of study concluded with an assembly program presented by the sixth graders to students in grades K-5 and parents.

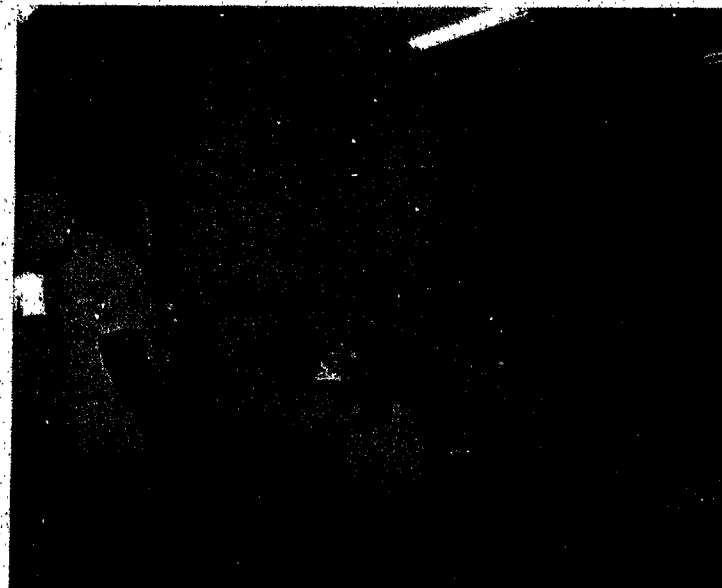

In hand-crafted Indian attire, the children entered the gym single-file to the tune of "Seminole Wind." They assembled by tribes on the gym floor and were introduced by each group's tribal chief.

Students then individually, or in groups, presented information about the Native American culture and customs they studied. The students also demonstrated Indian games and ritual dances with remarkable skill.

The program ended with thunderous rhythmic clapping as the performers exited the gym.

In photos, clockwise from top, the tribe known as the Sign of the Trout skillfully demonstrates a ceremonial dance to the beat of hand-crafted drums; Jenny Boudreaux, Leila Gargoum, Ray Ladner and Shawn Malley pose in front of a life-size teepee creatively constructed of poles and paper bags; language arts teacher Billy Dedeaux, fondly named Chief Bald Eagle, demonstrates Indian sign language to students; parent volunteer Joan Ladner adds finishing touches to the face paint of Ginger Lee and Julie Wilkinson in preparation for the assembly program; everyone got into the spirit of the occasion as they donned hand-painted t-shirts and head dresses. Teacher Sue Gholston welcomes the audience and introduces the program "A Meeting of the Tribes;" Tribal Chief Andreas Zivic introduces each member of his tribe by the Indian name each student selected; and Indian Princess Amanda Pouncey applauds the performance of her classmates at the conclusion of their rain dance.

SSC receives Winn-Dixie Good Citizenship Award

St. Stanislaus High School will receive a 1992 Good Citizenship Award sponsored by Winn-Dixie Stores during a luncheon Dec. 1 at Commander's Palace in New Orleans.

Representative Jim Donelon will be guest speaker. Winn-Dixie will also honor one of its own associates with a special Good Citizenship Award. The announcement was made by Ron Sevin, vice president and division manager of Winn-Dixie Louisiana, Inc.

A total of 34 organizations located throughout Louisiana and Mississippi will be honored.

They will receive contributions totalling approximately $100,000.

The Davis family, Winn-Dixie's founders, established the Good Citizenship Awards in an effort to recognize the often unheralded efforts of those who give so much to our young people and to the community at large.

Financial contributions are made on behalf of the Davis Family and Winn-Dixie Stores through their respective foundations. On December 1, contributions made to local organizations throughout the Southeast at area awards luncheons will be approximately $3 million.

"Because there are so many excellent people doing so much in our local communities, it's always difficult to select good Citizenship Award winners. However, all of us at Winn-Dixie are extremely excited about this year's list of recipients, not only with what they have done in the past, but what we believe they will contribute in the future," said Sevin.

Hlass honored by Exchange Club

Coast Episcopal High School senior George Hlass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hlass of Long Beach, was chosen Gulfport Exchange Club's Youth of the Month for December.

Hlass is a member of the National Honor Society and has been a member of the varsity basketball, tennis, and soccer teams. He has served as vice-president of his class for the last two years and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

The Exchange Club is a national service organization with chapters throughout the country. One of its many programs for young people is the "Youth of the Month" chosen from area schools. Students are selected for their excellence in academics, school and civic activities, and leadership.

From the students honored each month by the Club, a "Youth of the Year" is chosen, and the winner is eligible to compete on the district level.

CEHS homecoming court to be presented Saturday

Coast Episcopal High School will celebrate its 1992 Homecoming on Saturday, December 5 with two basketball games against Chamberlain-Hunt Academy of Port Gibson.

Girls' varsity play is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. followed by the varsity boys' game at the school gymnasium on Espy Avenue in Pass Christian.

Members of the homecoming court will be presented at half-time of the boys' game. The queen, selected from the two senior maids by a vote of the student body, will be crowned by Student Council president Terry Welch.

Senior maids are Penny Lambert and Megan Uram. Penny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lambert of Pass Christian. She is a varsity Megan Uram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Uram of Bay St. Louis, is a member of the varsity basketball and tennis teams. She is a member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Selected as junior maid is Miriam Salloum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salloum of Gulfport. Miriam is an alpha honor roll student and a member of the varsity basketball and tennis teams. She is a member of the National Honor Society and Mu Alpha Theta and is serving as vice-president of the Student Council and president of SADD this year.

Sophomore maid is Sally Cassidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cassidy of Gulfport. An honor roll student, Sally is president of the sophomore class this year and treasurer of SADD.

Selected as freshman maid is Crissy Dedeaux, daughter of Mrs. Judee Dedeaux and William Dedeaux of Gulfport. Crissy enjoys sports, especially

St. Paul School slates annual Christmas program

St. Paul Catholic School announces its annual Christmas program which will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 15 in the school gym. Admission is free.

The student body will perform Three Wee Kings: A Christmas Music Fantasy written by Daniel Sharp, Betty Hager and Fred Bock. Thelma Yockey is program coordinator and Judy D'Angelo is director of music.

Four attend conference

Barbara Cropp, Gloria Dean, Tom Laird and Liz Prince of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District joined more than 555 school counseling professionals at the Mississippi Counseling Association's annual conference in Biloxi.

The professional improvement event included educational workshops, seminars and business meetings aimed at keeping counselors up-to-date on educational requirements for youth and on youth problems and solutions.
